Vehicles in Camp

All vehicles will be parked in designated parking areas for the weekend.

Venturing Crews are Welcome

Venturing Crews are welcome to attend the Ojibwa Fall Camp-o-ree. They can participate in all of the same activities that the Boy Scout will be participating in or assist in running the activities.

Notes on the Fall Camp-o-ree

- ✎ Troops should invite Webelos to attend with them and eat meals with the Troop. Webelos must compete as their own patrol. They cannot be mixed with Troop patrols. Webelos must register separately from the Troops. All Webelos can stay for the entire day on Saturday.
- ✎ Every Troop and Pack is expected to help with the judging of the stations. If we do not have enough volunteers then we will not be able to run all of the stations. Each Troop and Pack will be assigned a station to man.
- ✎ Meals are not provided. All units are to provide their own meals.

Coup Stick

- ☛ We will again be judging troops to determine who has the most spirit and who has shown the most participation.

Iron Chef Cook-Off Rules

Patrols must register to compete. This year's theme is Dutch Oven Cooking with Mystery Ingredient. There will be a youth competition and an adult competition.

- ➔ Each patrol will prepare a dish and turn in a patrol size portion to be judged. Patrols may be youth or adult.
- ➔ All entrées must have a recipe turned in with dish. Recipe form is available at <http://ojibwacamporee.org>.
- ➔ Dishes will be prepared on Saturday of Camp-o-ree. Dishes that are not prepared on site may not get full points.
- ➔ The choice of the recipe and seasoning is the patrols decision.
- ➔ Each patrol will be judged on originality, texture, flavor, smell, appearance, creativity, and use of theme ingredient.
 1. All dishes and recipes must have a name that is clearly displayed at time of judging. Weird names that refer to Scouting or Scouters are encouraged.
 2. Each recipe shall list all the ingredients, their amounts, and complete instructions for preparation, all in detail. Do not forget to indicate number of briquettes, their placement (how many on top, bottom, etc.) and the cooking time.
 3. Each patrol will provide its own food, cooking tools and any supplies they need to prepare there dishes. Activities committee will not provide equipment or food.
 4. Usage of pre-packaged, store-bought foods should be avoided. It is permitted that all seasonings, and ingredients can be pre-measured and put in a plastic baggie.
 5. Canned fruit and packaged cake mixes are acceptable as a base for a dessert, but fresh fruit or cake (made from scratch), will earn you more points.
 6. Judging will take place between 5:00 to 6:30 PM, with prizes presented at the evening show.
 7. All entries will be taken to HQ, and presented for judging.
 8. The decision of the judges is final.

Webelos are allowed to camp with Troops

Any Webelos Den that is invited by a Troop may camp with that Troop on Saturday night. The Den must be invited by a Troop and will camp with that Troop. The Ojibwa District will not provide camping space for Webelos Dens individually. The Webelos Den will still be expected to compete as a separate Patrol from the Troop they are staying with.

How do I register my Troop?

There are two ways to register, you can register by using the paper registration form or by going online (<http://ojibwacamporee.org>) and using the online Doubleknot registration process.

To Register with the paper registration form, fill out the form completely, send the form and fees in to Will Griffin at the council office. Include unit leader and contact person (if different than unit leader), Number of scouts projected to attend, amount of fees, payment method.

To Register online, go to <http://ojibwacamporee.org> and goto the Fall Camp-o-ree Page, on that page there will be a link to the online registration using the Doubleknot registration system. Once at doubleknot, follow the onscreen instructions. To register for this event you do not need to enter your scouts names, only the total number of youth and adults attending.

Upon arrival at the event the unit leader needs to go to registration and fill out a form which contains the actual number of scouts and adults attending. At that time the unit roster also needs to be provided.
